A XP quick reference

The idea in one paragraph. Set goals for what you'd love to achieve, break them into small quests, and check them off. Every real action earns XP, which fills your daily rings, raises your level and moves you up the cousins' league. Squad challenges, meetups and a shared weekly target mean everyone can win together, and gentle rules (rest days, an underdog boost, capped slip-ups) keep it motivating rather than stressful.

SECTION 1

1 Getting started and accounts

The app is private to the five cousins. Nobody can join without an invitation, and every cousin owns their own account.

Welcome screen

- Greets first-time visitors with "Welcome to Project Thunderstorms 'n' All" and the line "Five cousins. Five journeys. One extraordinary life."
- A single Get Started button leads to account creation; I already have an account leads to sign-in.
- Soft, slowly drifting storm clouds in the background (kept still for anyone who prefers reduced motion).

The first account and the setup code

- When the app has no accounts yet, the very first sign-up needs a setup code. The owner chooses it in Vercel (`TNA_SETUP_CODE`); locally it is printed in the server console.
- The first account becomes the squad's organiser, who can change the squad rules (see Settings). The code protects that spot so a stranger who finds the website can't claim it.
- After the first account exists, the setup code is never asked for again.

Invitations

- Any cousin who has joined can create an invite link from Settings → Cousins.
- Each link works once and expires after 7 days. It can be copied or shared directly from a phone's share menu; the 8-character code is also shown for typing by hand.
- Opening an invite link pre-fills the code and greets the person with "[Name] invited you to the squad." Expired or used links show a friendly message.
- The squad is capped at five accounts. Unused invites can be cancelled by whoever sent them (or by the organiser).

Creating an account

- Fields: invitation code (or setup code), name, username and password.
- Usernames are unique, 3–20 characters, using lowercase letters, numbers, dots or underscores. Passwords need at least 8 characters, with a show/hide toggle.
- A step indicator shows progress through account creation and setup.

Signing in and staying signed in

- Sign in with username (not case-sensitive) and password from any device.
- You stay signed in for 30 days, renewed automatically while you use the app. Up to 10 devices per person.
- Returning users go straight to their dashboard; anyone who hadn't finished setup picks up where they left off.
- Sign out from Settings (or the More menu on phones).

SECTION 2

2 First-time setup (onboarding)

New cousins never land on an empty dashboard. A short, optional setup makes the app theirs. Nothing is ever added automatically: suggestions only fill in the form.

Step 1 · Make it yours (profile)

- Profile photo: upload any picture; it is cropped to a square and resized automatically.
- Or pick an avatar from 16 options (weather, nature, animals and more) and one of 8 colours.
- Name, an optional short bio (up to 160 characters) and optional interests: 16 ready-made ones (Fitness, Reading, Music, Cooking, Travel, Technology, Art, Movies, Cricket, Badminton, Photography, Finance, Writing, Nature, Yoga, Dance) plus any you type in, up to 12.

Step 2 · What would you love to achieve? (goals)

- Add as many personal goals as you like; each one appears in a list you can remove from.
- Six optional ideas: Improve physical fitness, Develop a new skill, Read more books, Improve professional skills, Spend more time with family, Improve personal finances.
- Each goal can have a life area, a "why it matters" line, a number to track and a target date (see Goals).
- Can be skipped.

Step 3 · Create your first quest

- Prompt: "Every extraordinary journey starts with one small step."
- Choose a daily or one-time quest, with optional ideas such as "Walk for 20 minutes", "Read 10 pages" or "Call a cousin". The quest can be linked to one of the goals just added.
- Can be skipped.

Step 4 · You're all set

- A calm finish screen summarises what was created ("1 goal and 1 quest, all yours") and opens the dashboard.
- A Back button is available on every step after the first.

Clean start, always. New accounts begin with zero quests, zero goals, zero activity and zero achievements. Everything on a dashboard comes from that person's own saved data.

SECTION 3

3 Today, your dashboard

One calm screen with what matters today.

Greeting

- Today's date and a greeting that follows the time of day ("Good morning, Meghana").

Activity rings

- Quests ring: quests completed today out of today's total.
- Charge ring: XP earned today against a daily target of 100 XP.
- Your level and title with a progress bar and how much XP is left until the next level.
- Your streak, a Take a rest day button (once a week, protects the streak) and a note when the underdog boost is active.

Today's quests

- All your daily quests plus open one-time quests (and any finished today), each with its icon, life area, linked goal and XP.
- Tap the round check to complete; tap again to undo (the XP is removed). Checks take the colour of the quest's life area.
- Up to three active challenges with progress bars, linking to the Challenges tab.

Goals and this week

- Up to three active goals with progress and days left.
- This week's league: every cousin's rank and XP, with your row highlighted.

Daily spark

- One small surprise reward per day: 10 XP (half the time), 20 XP, 35 XP, or a rare 75 XP "lightning strike". A new spark arrives at midnight.

Empty states

- "Your sky is clear" with a New quest button when there are no quests yet.
- "What would you love to achieve?" with an Add a goal button when there are no goals.
- "It's quiet up here" with an Invite cousins button until someone else joins.

SECTION 4

4 Quests

Quests are the small, concrete steps you take. There are three kinds, each on its own tab.

Daily
Repeats every day. Check it off each time you do it.

One-time
Do it once, check it off, done.

Challenge
A target with a deadline, alone or with cousins.

Daily quests

- Complete or undo with one tap; see the last 7 days as a row of dots and the quest's own streak ("4-day streak").
- Shows life area, linked goal and XP per completion.
- Remove with a two-tap confirmation. XP already earned is kept. Up to 30 daily quests.

One-time quests

- Open quests at the top; finished ones collapse into a Completed list.
- Completing earns XP; un-checking takes it back. Delete with a two-tap confirmation. Up to 100 open at once.

Challenges

- Grouped into Yours, From your cousins (join with one tap) and Finished.
- Each card shows the icon, life area, days left, an optional description and progress:
  - Everyone hits the target: a progress bar per participant; each person finishes on their own.
  - One shared target: everyone's contributions add up to one total; when it's reached, every participant is rewarded.
- Log progress with +1, or a custom amount for large targets (like 300 pages); undo with −. Shows how much is left to go.
- Rewards on completion: 25 XP (today), 100 XP (this week), 200 XP (30 days).
- The creator can delete their challenge. Ended challenges are marked and can no longer be logged.

Creating a quest

- Open from the + button (anywhere), the New button on Quests, or "add a quest for this goal" on a goal.
- Choose the kind, type a name, or tap an idea to fill it in (never saved unless you confirm).
- Pick a life area (12) and an icon (16).
- Daily and one-time quests: choose a size, Small (10 XP), Medium (15 XP) or Big (25 XP), and optionally link it to a goal.
- Challenges: choose the deadline (Today, This week, 30 days), the target and unit (days, pages, km…), invite cousins, and choose individual or shared target. Cousins are notified when a challenge includes them.

SECTION 5

5 Goals

Goals are the bigger picture your quests build toward. They're visible to your cousins so they can cheer you on.

Each goal can have

- A name and a life area.
- An optional "why it matters" line.
- An optional number to track: a target and unit, like 12 books, 50 km or ₹50,000.
- An optional target date, shown as days left.

Working on a goal

- Trackable goals show "3 of 12 books" with a progress bar and − / + buttons. The step is 1, ₹1,000 for money goals, or a twentieth of very large targets.
- Each step earns XP: 10 XP per unit (up to 60 per step); for money goals, ₹200 = 1 XP (up to 30 per step). Reaching the target earns +100 XP.
- Simple goals have a Mark achieved button (+100 XP), which can be undone.
- Each card shows how many quests support it, and a + to add a quest already linked to the goal.
- Delete with a two-tap confirmation (linked quests simply become unlinked).

Also on the Goals page

- Achieved: completed goals with the date they were achieved.
- Your cousins are working on: the others' active goals and progress, for encouragement.
- When there are no active goals: a friendly empty state with the six goal ideas.
- Up to 50 active goals per person. The squad is notified when someone achieves a goal.

SECTION 6

6 Cousins: the league

Friendly rivalry, real growth. Rankings update as anyone logs.

Standings

- Choose the period: This week, This month or All time.
- Rank by XP, streak, consistency (share of active days) or badges.
- Each row shows the cousin's photo, name, level and title.

Underdog boost

- Whoever is last this week and at least 60 XP behind the average earns 1.25× XP until they catch up, so nobody stays at the bottom for long. Shown on the league and on that person's dashboard.

Squad charge

- Everyone's XP this week added together, against a shared target of 800 XP per cousin (4,000 XP for five). Fully charged means it's time to plan something together.

Recent activity

- The latest things your cousins have done, with time and XP.

Duels

- Challenge a cousin head-to-head: most XP or most active days, this week or this month, with optional stakes ("loser buys the filter coffee"). A bar shows who's ahead.

This week's standouts

- Most XP, Most consistent, Longest streak and Most balanced (most life areas touched).

Week by week

- A bar chart of everyone's XP over the last four weeks, each cousin in their own colour.

Until a second cousin joins, the page shows "Your league is waiting" with an invite button.

SECTION 7

7 The twelve life areas

Every quest, goal and activity belongs to one of twelve life areas, each with its own icon and colour. They power the Life balance wheel and the insights.

SECTION 8

8 Health

Sustainable over strict: good food, good sleep, joyful movement.

- Water: tap glasses to log up to 8 (or use + / −). Reaching 8 earns 15 XP.
- Sleep: a slider from 0 to 12 hours in half-hour steps. 7–9½ hours earns 15 XP, with a gentle note that adapts to how you slept.
- Movement: log Walk, Run, Gym, Yoga, Surya Namaskar, Badminton, Cricket, Cycling, Swimming, Dance or a home workout, for 10–90 minutes. Earns 10–40 XP depending on length; today's sessions are listed.
- Mindful plate: tick vegetarian meals you ate (idli, sambar and chutney; pesarattu and upma; ragi or millet dosa; dal, rice, veg curry and rasam; sprouts or chana salad; curd rice; buttermilk; seasonal fruit; a mindful treat). Balanced meals earn 8 XP, others 4, with a protein tip.
- Your week: a chart of water and sleep over 7 days.
- Wellness score (0–100): a ring based on your 7-day averages for water, sleep and movement.
- Health details are private to you.

SECTION 9

9 Career

The quiet reps that move your work and learning forward. Works for any role: engineer, HR professional or student.

- Quick log, one tap each: focused deep-work session (15 XP), learned from a course/talk/article (10), practised a core skill (15), finished something meaningful (20), connected with someone in my field (10), helped or mentored someone (20).
- Skills: Building and shipping, Deep study, Relationships and Reading. Each levels up every 5 reps, with a progress bar.
- Momentum: a chart of career and learning XP over the last six weeks.
- Career and learning goals: your goals in those areas, with a quick Add button.
- Accountability: each cousin's current career or learning goal and progress.

SECTION 10

10 Money

Small, boring, consistent moves. That's how freedom is built.

- Monthly savings ring: how much you've saved this month against your own target (default ₹10,000, editable, minimum ₹500), plus your all-time total.
- Log a save: quick amounts (₹200, ₹500, ₹1,000, ₹2,000, ₹5,000) or any amount, with an optional note. ₹100 saved = 1 XP, between 5 and 30 XP per entry.
- Savings race: cousins ranked by the percentage of their own target, never by amount.
- 50 / 30 / 20 planner: enter your take-home pay to see needs, wants and savings amounts.
- Money lessons: six short lessons (emergency fund, SIP vs lump sum, credit card traps, old vs new tax regime, UPI budgeting, PPF/EPF/NPS). Marking one learned earns 15 XP.
- Recent saves: your latest entries with amounts and dates. Notes are private to you.

SECTION 11

11 Reflect

Look back to leap forward: two minutes a day, ten minutes a week.

- Daily check-in: rate your mood (Rough → Great) and energy (Drained → Electric), add one word for the day. 5 XP once a day; you can update it.
- Mood and energy chart: your last 14 days.
- Momentum: XP earned each day over the last 14 days.
- Insights, generated from your own data: your strongest day of the week, whether you're on pace to beat last week, whether sleep lifts your mood, life areas untouched for two weeks, and streak milestones.
- Gratitude wall: short notes of thanks, shared with your cousins. 10 XP each, up to three a day.
- Weekly review: three wins, what was hard, one intention for next week and a 1–5 star rating. 40 XP, once a week, private to you.

SECTION 12

12 Life balance

A balanced life, not a lopsided one.

- Life wheel: a radar chart of all twelve areas. Tap a cousin's photo to overlay theirs, for inspiration rather than judgement.
- Balance score (0–100) with your strongest area and the two that need love.
- Suggested next moves: a practical idea for each of your two weakest areas.
- All twelve areas: each area's score, your own rating (1–10 slider) and XP in the last 30 days. Score = your rating × 5, plus up to 50 points from recent action (150 XP in 30 days = full marks).

SECTION 13

13 Together (meetups)

The real leaderboard is the memories.

- Record a meetup: who was there (you plus any cousins), when (up to 60 days ago), what (dinner, outing, trip, festival, game night, workout together, study session, movie, birthday), where (with place suggestions) and an optional note.
- XP for everyone who came: 30 XP for two people, +10 for each extra person, and a +50 whole-squad bonus when everyone is there.
- Memories: save a moment with an icon and caption; cousins can cheer it with a heart.
- Stats: total meetups, days since the last one, and meetups this month.
- Timeline of every meetup with who came, where and when.
- Hangout ideas when there are no meetups yet.

SECTION 14

14 Logging activities and slip-ups

For wins that weren't on the list, and an honest, gentle way to note setbacks. Opened from the + button → Log an activity.

Something good

- Twelve activities: Exercise (30 XP), Study (25), Upskill (30), Read (20), Save money (20), Volunteer (40), Hobby (20), Family time (25), Meditate (15), Cook (15), Friends (20), Explore (25).
- Add a short note and a duration from 10 to 120 minutes. XP scales with time: 30 minutes earns the base amount, from half up to double.
- A daily limit of 8 manual logs (activities and career quick logs) discourages grinding and burnout.

A slip-up

- Pick from the squad's list. Defaults: skipped a workout I committed to (−10), junk food binge (−8), doomscrolling for 2+ hours (−6), broke a promise to a cousin (−8), impulse purchase over budget (−10), stayed up past 1 am (−6).
- Add an optional note about what led to it. Only you can see the details; cousins just see "Logged a slip-up".
- Gentle by design: honesty earns a +3 bonus (once a day), losses are capped per day (20 XP by default), and your level never drops.
- The organiser can switch slip-ups off for the whole squad.

SECTION 15

15 XP, levels, streaks and achievements

Levels and titles

Levels are based on lifetime XP from positive actions only, so they never go down. Each level needs more XP than the last.

LEVEL	TITLE	LIFETIME XP	LEVEL	TITLE	LIFETIME XP
1	Spark	0	6	Thunder Knight	3,750
2	Static Charge	150	7	Tempest	5,400
3	Sky Scout	600	8	Stormlord	7,350
4	Bolt Bearer	1,350	9	Sky Sovereign	9,600
5	Storm Caller	2,400	10+	Thunder Sage	12,150

Streaks and rest days

- A streak counts consecutive days with at least one positive action. Today never breaks it until the day is over.
- One rest day per week (Monday to Sunday) keeps the streak safe.
- Daily quests also have their own individual streaks.

Milestone moments

- Earning an achievement or reaching a new level opens a full-screen storm moment: a dark sky, one soft flash of lightning, the achievement and a Continue button (Enter or Escape also close it). No flash for anyone who prefers reduced motion.

SECTION 16

- Your photo or avatar, name, @username, the month you joined, your bio and interests.
- Edit profile: change photo/avatar, colour, name, bio and interests at any time.
- Level card with progress to the next level.
- Stats: lifetime XP, current and best streak, quests completed, achievements earned.
- Achievements: all 18, earned ones in colour with the date, locked ones with how to earn them.

SECTION 17

17 Notifications

- A bell in the top bar with a dot for anything new; opens a list of recent squad news with times.
- Covers: challenges started with you or completed, squad challenges finished, meetups, duels, goals achieved, achievements earned and level-ups.
- Read status is tracked separately for each cousin.

SECTION 18

18 Settings

Appearance

- Theme: Automatic (follows the device), Light or Dark, remembered on each device.

Cousins

- Everyone in the squad with their usernames, and how many of the five spots are filled.
- Create invite links, copy or share them, see pending invites with expiry dates, and cancel them.

Squad rules (set by the organiser, visible to everyone)

- Turn slip-ups on or off, set the most XP anyone can lose in a day (5–50), switch individual slip-ups on or off, remove them, or add new ones (−3 to −15 XP).

Account

- Change password (signs out your other devices) and sign out.

Your data

- A plain explanation of where data is kept and what is private.
- If this browser had the old demo version, its data was backed up and can be downloaded here.

How it works

- The six principles behind the game: positive first, habits that stick, a little surprise, fair competition, together over against, and no guilt.

19 Design, navigation and accessibility

Look and feel

- Calm, Apple-inspired design: generous white space, clear type, rounded cards, subtle shadows, and a restrained palette of midnight navy, storm grey, cloud white and muted electric blue.
- A quiet thunderstorm personality: a cloud-and-bolt logo, soft storm skies on welcome and milestone screens, and a lightning-gold accent reserved for XP and achievements.
- Light and dark modes, matching the device automatically.
- Simple line icons, with each life area in its own colour.
- Everyday XP appears as a small, quiet message at the bottom of the screen, for example "+15 XP · Evening walk".

Navigation

- Four main sections: Today, Quests, Goals and Cousins.
- A Life group: Health, Career, Money, Reflect, Life balance and Together.
- On computers: a sidebar with your profile and Settings at the bottom. On phones: a bottom tab bar, with a More sheet for the Life group, Profile, Settings and sign-out.
- One + button, always in the top bar: New quest, New goal or Log an activity.
- Forms open as bottom sheets on phones and centred panels on larger screens.

Accessibility and comfort

- Respects the device's reduce motion setting: animations, chart transitions and the lightning flash are turned off.
- Keyboard friendly: visible focus outlines; Escape closes menus and sheets.
- Screen-reader labels on icon buttons, checkmarks, progress and rating controls.
- Two-tap confirmation on every delete, and undo for completed quests.
- Works on phones, tablets and computers, including notched phones.

Staying in sync

- Your data follows your account across every device.
- Actions feel instant, and the server confirms them a moment later.
- Cousins' activity appears within about 15 seconds, and immediately when you switch back to the app.

SECTION 20

20 Privacy, security and your data

What cousins can see

SHARED WITH THE SQUAD	ONLY YOU
Shared Profile: photo, name, username, bio, interests	Private Your daily and one-time quest lists
Shared XP, levels, streaks, badges, league standings	Private Water, sleep, meals and workouts
Shared Activity feed (what was completed and the XP)	Private Mood and energy check-ins
Shared Goals and their progress	Private Weekly reviews
Shared Challenges, duels, meetups and memories	Private Savings notes (cousins see only your %)
Shared Gratitude wall and life-area ratings	Private Slip-up details (cousins see “Logged a slip-up”)

Security

- Invitation-only, with at most five accounts and a protected first account.
- Passwords are never stored as typed: they are scrambled with scrypt and a unique salt per person.
- Sign-ins use a secure, HTTP-only cookie that page scripts can’t read; changing your password signs out other devices.
- Repeated failed sign-ins and sign-ups are slowed down, and requests from other websites are blocked.
- Fair play: the server checks every action and calculates all XP itself, so nobody can award themselves points or change another cousin’s quests or goals.

Your data is safe

- Stored in the squad’s own database (Upstash Redis, connected to the Vercel project).
- Every change is saved all-or-nothing, and two people acting at the same moment can never overwrite each other.
- A daily backup is kept for 14 days, and a backup is taken before any upgrade changes how data is stored.
- Updates to the app never reset or erase anyone’s data.
- The old demo version’s sample cousins and pre-filled quests were removed; real accounts are never touched by that clean-up.
